

HIT THE DEMS HARD

Capt. E. P. Allen Delivers a Magnificent Speech

IN THE LINCOLN CLUB ROOMS

The Ex-Congressman From the Second Made a Sound Speech—Cheers for the Speaker and Case.

Ex-Congressman E. P. Allen of Ypsilanti faced a large audience in the Lincoln club rooms on Pearl street last evening. The crowd was slow in assembling and it was 8:15 o'clock before Colonel Sellers called the meeting to order. It was a good natured crowd and Captain Allen was cheered and applauded as the telling points of his address were sent home. During the time that the audience was assembling, an invitation was extended for persons to come forward and join the club. As a result the roll of the club was augmented by fifty new names. The Hon. M. S. Crosby was called to the chair and introduced the speaker, referring to him as one of the ablest representatives Michigan has ever had in the national congress. Captain Allen said:

"I have been talking in the county where they are not converted. I take it that there in the city you have all made up your minds as to how you will vote this fall. If there are any democrats in the audience, I promise for a little time to torment them before their time. In this great government where every man's vote counts—unless he is counted out—we should be careful to know what we are doing when election day comes. Some men vote a ticket because they have a card on their shoulder labeled 'democrat,' but it is not a sufficient reason for the way to vote. It follows that no man should vote carelessly. He should look beyond the men and look at the probable acts of the men who are to be elected. I hope you will vote the republican ticket this fall, not because I like to see the republican party win a victory, but because what it advocates is better than what the other parties advocate."

The strength of the democratic party is in its inertia, its inactivity. It dreads a contest. The deeds of the fathers are good enough for a democrat. It is a necessary evil. We shall have a democratic party until the turn of the millennium, when it will pass away. No democrat can point back for thirty-five years and see one principal advocated by the democratic party that has been right. There is a great deal of difference between a democrat and the democratic party. When the democratic party declared in 1864 that the war was a failure, thousands of them left the party and voted for Abraham Lincoln. The individual democrat has principles, but the party—well, what has it done in this district? It has swallowed a people's party candidate. You ought to rebuke your party, good democrats, by voting the straight republican ticket. If you vote for the republican party you will vote for your own best interests."

The subject of the tariff is fairly upon its merits in this campaign. The democratic party has evaded the real issue in former campaigns. Now it is fairly placed on a platform where it advocates free trade, pure and simple. The platform states that the republican tariff is a fraud and unconstitutional, and that a tariff for revenue only is the only tariff that can be levied constitutionally. They quoted the confederate constitution on the tariff question, and this plank in the democratic platform will be shot to death by a million ballots as the confederate constitution was shot to death by a million loyal ballots."

To protect Home Markets. The republican party has promised to keep the American market where it is. The market consumes more than any other market in the world. It is a great market because it pays for what it consumes. The republican party says we shall reserve this market for our own people first."

The democrats tell us the tariff is ruinous; that it is adding the manufacturers to the damage of the laborers. Now, suppose anything should happen to make very much of the rate of these factories with their plants (which are cheaper now than ever before)? We had a low tariff for twenty years in this country, and it led to the complete bankruptcy of the country. At that time the slaves of all our stores were stocked with foreign goods, and the ships of the ocean were laden with a stock of goods made by the cheap labor of Europe. The result was that some of the large cities had to set up soup houses to keep the laborers from starving. James Buchanan, then president of the United States, called attention to the state of idleness of the laborers and the closed doors of the manufacturers who assembled about the gates of these factories with their plants (which are cheaper now than ever before). There are more comfortable homes in the United States today than ever before. The laborer's home today is better than the homes of the richest homes in the land thirty years ago.

A Land of Happy Homes. I have been through the war-making speeches. I have visited Kansas, Nebraska and Minnesota, and there I have seen thousands of happy, prosperous homes, where men own the farm they live on. That land was given to those men by the great home-owners in the past by a republican congress and signed by Abraham Lincoln, the blessed. Every democrat in congress voted against that bill, not from malice, but because they did not know any better. The democratic party presides as the laboring men's party. I grant it ought to be, for the laborers have given it the strength to live long enough to see its candidate the presidency come out for free silver at the expense of the mine owner. Now, my laboring man, keep right on voting for the democratic party and you will continue to be a poor man."

Let me explain what a tariff for revenue only will do. It will add not an ad valorem duty or a duty upon the value of goods. It would make the tax upon $100 worth of boots and shoes the same as it would upon $100 worth of diamonds, yet the one is a necessity and the other a luxury. Would it be right?

Let Us Have Honest Money. Again, the democratic party is all at sea on the money question. It depends where a democrat resides whether he wants free silver, or fiat money. The democratic party proposes to remove the wildest currency. It would be ruinous to the country. The democratic party, like a man riding a horse with his face turned toward the horse's tail, does not see the danger until it is passed. The democratic party has made the country a beggar when the war began. What did the republican party do when it came into power? It said we will issue our note of hand, a bill of credit and trust to the patriot of the people to take it as money, though in fact it was not worth one cent. The people took it and from that day to this the people have not lost one dollar. I tell you that if we have a cheap dollar it will find its way into the pockets of the laborer. If you have a good dollar and a poor dollar they will not associate together. The one will find its way into banks, to foreign countries and to every hiding place except the pocket of the laboring man. The other, the cheap money, will surely find its way into the laborer's pocket and make him a beggar. This flag of the stars and stripes has been the emblem of the republican party. This flag was never shot at by a republican nor was it ever pruned in the dust by a republican. We are proud of the past; we are confident of the present and we march on to the future feeling that if we win the country will be in safe hands and we ask you all to come along with us."

Mr. Crosby proposed three cheers for speaker and the cause. The cheers were given with a vim that made the windows rattle.

KANSAS AND MICHIGAN.

Captain Allen Says They Are Both Going Republican.

"If anybody asks you if the republicans are going to carry Kansas this fall, tell them yes, by 30,000 plurality," said ex-Congressman E. P. Allen at the Morton yesterday to a reporter for THE HERALD. Captain Allen recently returned from a two weeks' tour of the Jayhawk state. "The state ticket will be elected by from 30,000 to 40,000, and Harrison will receive at least 20,000 plurality. The democratic and alliance men fused on a state ticket; but the democrats have held another convention and repudiated the work of the former convention. They still remain united on the election, and that may possibly reduce President Harrison's plurality. The alliance is broken so far as Kansas is concerned. "So far as Michigan is concerned, I think we are going to elect not less than nine congressmen. I should not be surprised if we elected more. This is going to be a great year for the Michigan republicans. The heaviest vote will be polled in this state that there ever has been. The republicans are great fighters every other year. The republican victory they fear is a little long; but this is their year and they are winners."

MORE ENTHUSIASM.

The Tenth Ward Holland Republicans Hold a Good Meeting.

The Tenth ward Holland Republican club held an enthusiastic meeting in Travis hall, corner of East and Sherman streets, last evening and were addressed in the Holland language by Hiram Lutton, who brought out forcibly many points which went to prove that the republican party was the party for the workingmen. He was frequently applauded by the audience. There were about seventy-five persons present to listen to the eloquent words of the countryman and they were well satisfied with the reasons which he offered why they should vote the republican ticket."

Senator Stockbridge's View.

United States Senator Frank B. Stockbridge of Kansas was a guest at the Morton for some time yesterday. "I am on my way to Iowa to make a republican meeting," he said. "The campaign is a quiet one, but the state has looked brighter from a republican standpoint in years. Oh, yes, there is no question about Mr. Burrows' election to congress in our district, and there will be several more republican congressmen to keep him company from this state too."

Political Paragraphs.

"Protection" chapter guards our land. From England's great and power, we have taken me for a blessing day. This is the legend that is inscribed on a small tin plate made by the American Tin Plate company at Elwood, Ind. The outside of the plate contains the inscription, "Harrison-Rand and Protection, 1892."

William Alden Smith and Judge Perkins will speak at Gratian Center Tuesday evening.

Capt. E. P. Allen of Ypsilanti, ex-congressman from the second district, who spoke at the Lincoln club rooms last night, will speak this evening at the Hon. M. L. Dunham instead of Alfred Wolcott, who was billed to speak there.

Judge Perkins and the Hon. M. L. Dunham will speak at Alton Wednesday evening, and on the same evening George Clapperton will speak at the Eleventh ward club meeting at White's hall corner of Hall street and Madison avenue.

Active preparations are being made to receive Senator Frye of Maine, who will be here to address the republican mass-meeting at Hartman's hall next Thursday evening.

Colonel A. S. Wood of New York will speak at the Grand Rapids evening and at Sparta Friday evening. He will not speak here, as he is working for the state central committee and has had these two meetings in the county.

W. T. Adams and M. L. Dunham will entertain Silver Lake voters with their discussions of political questions Saturday evening, October 22.

Alfred Wolcott and James A. Cove will address a republican meeting at Haswell, Otsego, Saturday, Thursday evening, October 22.

The Hon. Mark S. Brewer and Fred A. Maynard will discuss political questions at Lowell Monday evening, October 24.

There will be a republican meeting at Alton Tuesday evening, October 26, and William Alden Smith will make a speech.

George Clapperton of this city and Sylvester F. Hicks of Lowell will speak at Fallsburg Wednesday evening, October 28.

Neither county committee is desirous of creating any local party enthusiasm, but both say if it does come they will not be behind the procession.

There is a large quantity of lambs in the city that can be pulled out at the first alarm.

Simon LaFont, the prosecuting attorney's understudy, and Andy Frye will speak at Klump's hall on Furian avenue this evening.

I. M. Turner and A. J. Reeves will talk democracy to the citizens of Bowne Center Tuesday evening.

Joseph Rosenthal and A. J. Reeves will address a democratic rally in Ketter school house, Friday evening, October 22.

Evidently the white posters as formerly gotten out by the democratic county committee have failed to attract attention as they are now using posters of gay hues. They are bordered, however, with a wide black strip.

W. W. Taylor and W. H. Hughes talked democratic principles to residents of Evans last night.

W. F. McKnight and A. J. Reeves will speak at Gaines Wednesday evening, October 26.

W. F. McKnight and Capt. Dennis L. Rodgers spoke at Labarge last evening, and the speaker at the Grattan school house, Gratian, on Tuesday evening.

George W. Thompson and Henry F. McCormick will speak at the Brewer school house in Gaines Saturday evening, October 23.

New York, Oct. 14.—Canadian advice to Bradstreet's on the state of trade: At Montreal the tendency of iron and steel to advance has also shown itself, and the orders for spring steel goods are liberal. At Quebec the sheet manufacturers have had a very prosperous year. Tanned leather tends to higher prices. At Toronto there is a satisfactory trade among dealers in dry goods, clothing and groceries. Receipts of barley are in excess, but the export demand is slack.

Declines to Run.

St. Louis, Oct. 14.—Charles F. Joy was today unanimously nominated for congress in the eleventh district, John

J. O'Neill, democrat, being the present representative and candidate on the democratic ticket. Joy made the race before against O'Neill and was defeated. This time he persistently declined to be his party's candidate to the convention. He says tonight that he will positively and formally decline to run, in a letter, which he will write tomorrow.
